Product Helps Toes Enjoy Yoga

Small Rubber Devices Stretch Toes

UPDATED: 6:16 pm EST November 26, 2007

There's yoga for your body, and now, for your toes.

The makers of YogaToes, small rubber devices, claim the product helps to ease bunions, hammertoes, varicose veins and poor circulation by wearing them on feet for up to an hour each day.

Channel 3 tested the YogaToes for the past month. Channel 3 Eyewitness News executive producer Shawana Perry deemed the YogaToes a little uncomfortable at first because she could feel the stretch.

"After a while, I noticed that my toes were a little straighter, and my bunion went away," Perry said. "I did determine that it did help with the circulation."

The YogaToes sell for about $50 a pair on yogapro.com.
